

Submission of the paper:
“Possible causalities between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar”

I declare herewith that I participated in the study “Possible causality between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar” and that I have seen and approved the final version. In this study, I am responsible for: (i) conceptualizing and designing the study; (ii) data collection; (iii) data analysis and interpretation; and (iv) drafting and finalizing the manuscript. I also declare that I have no conflict of interest in connection with this paper, other than any noted in the covering letter to the editor.

Hirotsugu Aiga, MPH, PhD

Submission of the paper:
“Possible causality between malnutrition and academic performance among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar”

I declare herewith that I participated the study “Possible causality between malnutrition and academic performance among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar” and that I have seen and approved the final version. In this study, I am responsible for: (i) conceptualizing and designing the study; (ii) data collection; and (iii) commenting on the draft manuscript for its finalization. I also declare that I have no conflict of interest in connection with this paper, other than any noted in the covering letter to the editor.

阿部 かなえ

Kanae Abe, MSc

Submission of the paper:
“Possible causalities between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar”

I declare herewith that I participated the study “Possible causality between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar” and that I have seen and approved the final version. In this study, I am responsible for: (i) data collection; and (ii) commenting on the draft manuscript for its finalization. I also declare that I have no conflict of interest in connection with this paper, other than any noted in the covering letter to the editor.

Razafinombana Razafitombo Angèle, MPh

Submission of the paper:
“Possible causalities between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar”

I declare herewith that I participated the study “Possible causality between malnutrition and academic performances among primary school children: A cross-sectional study in rural Madagascar” and that I have seen and approved the final version. In this study, I am responsible for: (i) data collection; and (ii) commenting on the draft manuscript for its finalization. I also declare that I have no conflict of interest in connection with this paper, other than any noted in the covering letter to the editor.

Le président de l'Association

Randriamampionona
Emmanuel, MA